

Halloween Town is getting ready to take over Christmas. The presents must be packed into the sleigh ready for Jack Skellington to be Santa! The numbers indicate how many squares in each row contain a toy. Notice each present type takes up a different amount of space and must be at least one space away (in all directions) from others! Once the sleigh is all packed up, Jack exclaimed "Anchors away!" Sally said "What an odd thing to say, but you must have said that for a reason, hey?"

MAYOR'S CHRISTMAS COUNTDOWN

Halloween Town is taking over Christmas Town's holiday, and their mechanical countdown clock is being readjusted for the countdown to Christmas instead! Help the mayor switch on the clock by coding in the remaining 0's and 1's. There cannot be more than two of the same horizontally or vertically adjacent to each other (more than two diagonally adjacent is accepted). Study the clock from top to bottom... what is everyone waiting for?

OOGIE BOOGIE'S GAMBLE

"Oh, the sound of rollin' dice to me is music in the air 'cause I'm a gamblin' Boogie man although I don't play fair!". Oogie Boogie keeps on rolling dice, until he gets results he likes. Jack and Sally must thwart his plan, using clues left from the Boogie man. If only they could see, how simple it would be, to send Oogie Boogie down below, under the lair he calls home, to fiery pits of lava, an end to Oogie's laughter.

After Jack had been shot down as the Santa Claus imposter, he returned to his home of Halloween Town and took a stroll with Sally and his dog to his favorite place, the spiral hill. Make the hill complete again by filling it in vertically downwards and horizontally from left to right. Jack and Sally glanced at each other and thought about which holiday door they would like to open next!
